ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

In the context of current competition to become excellence in research work and occupies top rank in ranking system, Academic & Research institutes are investing huge amount of money in academic & research related activities. This investment ought to give a return (RoI) in terms of research publication, projects, funding, job and many more.

The libraries are in huge pressure to supplement the research information needs of the institute to sustain in the benchmarking system. At the same time, the library professional has to develop skills needed to support academic and research support services along with the traditional services. Keeping in view to enhance the search support skills, the workshop has been conceptualized to provide tech training with the aim to:

- Research & Information literate – This is high time for both librarian and researcher to be information literate. The library must be competent enough to be aware about right source of information provided to a right person at a right time of the need. Researcher must be competent enough to be aware about the resources and services available in the library and mode of access to those services and resources for smooth conduct of the research.
- Digital Literate – In this internet era, most of the information resources are available in digital format in deep web, and discovery of the digital document is essential. It is very important to know the methods and techniques of mining the information from the deep web.
- Competency Building – The new generation librarian must be Competent, Confident & Communicate (CCC) with the research related information in a such way that it pave the path of researcher for smooth conduct of research
- Manage Library Technology – create awareness about the ever-emerging technology to manage the library resources and services. The technology includes digital technology, Artificial Intelligence etc.
- Research Data Management – Competent enough to understand the data intensive research works and assist faculty and Research Scholars in Managing the Data
- Ethics and values of the Research – it is high time for researcher to know the best ethical practices to excel in their research
- Psychology and Interpersonal Skills – Train the library and information science professional to handle the in & out situation in the professional and Personal life events

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE WORKSHOP

The workshop shall be helpful in understanding the process of research support services in higher education & research institution to achieve the desired goal of an Academic Excellence.

The participants will be trained in

- Understanding & Importance Information in Research

ABOUT US...

Our Founder, Dr Balkrishana Shivram Moonje, a social reformer and a great visionary, understood the importance of Military Education before independence. He was a firm believer in Indianisation of armed forces and indispensability of Military Training to Indian youth for building up a strong nation. He was a pioneer of military education in India. He believed that unless the Nation becomes militarily strong, it cannot hold it's head high amongst other nations. His vision was to provide young and able officers to arm our Nation. His vision was to provide young and able officers to armed forces through rigorous training. His motto for military education was 'Power of knowledge and knowledge of Power'. He believed that the responsibility of defending motherland has to be borne by everybody.

All the units in C.H.M.E. Society are the logical extension of his thoughts on Military Education. As an educational institution, we impart regular formal education, but the hallmark of our institution is to instill our core values and imbibe the fervour of patriotism, leadership, and discipline in our students.

Apart from this, securing borders and honour of motherland requires able officers as well as strategic thinkers. That is what C.H.M.E. Society does. Strategic thinking is a mindset and it should be developed in the society at large. We cultivate and nurture an attitude in our students to serve the nation. We also create security consciousness in the society. We have gradually evolved a formidable system which imparts preparatory military training. Through this, we inculcate a habit of subordinating self-interest to national interest. We inspire our students to lead and be equipped to face the challenges before the nation and fight for the honour of the country.

Infrastructure & Improvement Section

Infrastructure Development:

Infrastructure development is essential for colleges to provide favorable learning environment for students. State of art and well-maintained infrastructure, including classrooms, library and laboratories provide students with a comfortable and conducive learning environment. This can improve their learning experience and academic performance. Therefore DMIMCS is focused on ICT enabled classrooms. Renovation of washrooms is in process.

- Technology Upgradation
  - Learning Management System (LMS) can provide many benefits to educational institutions. Overall, installing an LMS requires careful planning, configuration, and testing to ensure that it meets the needs of your organization and users. It is important to provide ongoing support and maintenance to ensure that the LMS remains functional and beneficial over time.
  - For improving the teaching learning process, DMI has purchased latest laptops for faculty members.
